Through its proven Golf Tournament Management Platform (iWanamaker and associated native apps), the platform will also provide athletic directors, coaches and student-athletes free access to schedules, live leaderboards, player scorecards, rankings and more. Spectators can purchase a pass to access content and a portion of the ticket revenue is shared with the OSSAA and its member schools.

“We are excited to be in a partnership with Wanamaker Corporation,” OSSAA Executive Director David Jackson said. “This will ensure fans, parents, student-athletes and school officials receive real-time results as they support Oklahoma student-athletes during regular and postseason golf events.”
